Commitment

Please read the following standards and policies carefully before submitting your application to the Heart Awakening School of Healing. It is vital that you understand the high standards of the school you are applying to and the integrity of behavior that will be asked of you as a spiritual healer.

The Heart Awakening program requires a serious commitment on the part of the student. Students are asked to conduct their personal lives in and out of the school with a high degree of personal integrity. Spiritual healing requires adherence to the highest standards of personal excellence. It is essential to live what we are asking to become. Throughout the program, it is necessary for teachers and students to maintain love, truth, and wisdom.

Program Standards

Agreement

All Heart Awakening participants are asked to follow these standards of behavior:

- Acceptance of the concept that you are responsible for creating your own experience of reality
- Awareness that you are sharing an existence with others who are experiencing their own life journey in their own unique individual way.
- A commitment to participating with others in a way that contributes to their well-being.
- A commitment to using spiritual energy only in ways which will contribute to the well being of others and not for any negative intention. You agree to use these energies to be of service to humanity and the healing of the planet.
- An agreement not to take drugs during your participation in the program, unless prescribed by a physician.
- An agreement not to take alcohol during each school retreat
- An agreement to maintain confidentiality. (Read Spectrum of Confidentiality).
- An agreement to keep financial commitments to the school.
- An agreement to arrive at each course prepared to start at the scheduled time.
- An agreement to immediately advise Student Liaison of any significant change in physical, emotional or mental well being.
- An agreement that all teachings are held confidentially for personal use only unless you receive express written permission from the Heart Awakening Program Director.

Spectrum of Confidentiality

There is a wide spectrum of confidential behavior. It ranges in the lower end to gossip, saying anything about anyone at any time to the high end, when you never talk about others, but only about yourself and your own experiences.

There are times when discussing others is useful and necessary, such as teachers discussing the progress of students with each other. This discussion may include any aspect of the school activity including the private sessions and the pod group discussions.

In general, it is useful to discuss issues that come up with your client during a session with your Pod leader. However, it is not necessary or constructive to talk about people and what is going on with them. What is valuable in conversation is talking about your personal experience, not talking about others behind their backs. The deciding factor should be the intention behind a discussion about another person. Ask yourself “Why am I saying this? Does my talking about them contribute to my own well-being and theirs?”

During courses, the more an understanding of confidentiality is maintained, the more students can feel safe to fully express their personal issues. We encourage you to practice a high level of confidentiality during the school courses so you are fully prepared to create a safe and secure environment for your clients in your own healing practice.

I agree to maintain the standards of the Heart Awakening programs and understand that failure to comply is grounds for dismissal or suspension at the sole discretion of the Heart Awakening Staff, if such non-compliance is deemed necessary for the best interests of the school or the students.
